

REVOKING (CANCELING) A POWER OF ATTORNEY

There are often multiple ways to revoke (cancel) a power of attorney. Some options to revoke (cancel) a power of attorney may include, but are not limited to:

1. death of the principal;
2. the principal's revocation of the power of attorney or the agent's authority;
3. the occurrence of a termination event (stated in the power of attorney);
4. the purpose of the power of attorney being fully accomplished; or
5. if the agent is married to the principal, a legal action filed with a court to end their marriage, or for their legal separation, unless the Special Instructions in the power of attorney state that such an action will not terminate the agent's authority.

For further information or if you have any questions about revoking (canceling) a power of attorney, you should seek legal advice.
