OUR COMMITMENT TO THE CORE PRINCIPLES OF JUSTICE FOR ALL AND EQUALITY BEFORE THE LAW HAS REMAINED STEADFAST.

I am incredibly proud of the many achievements of Nebraska’s judges, court staff, probation officers, public guardians, and everyone who contributes to the success of the Judicial Branch. Over the past 18 years as Chief Justice, I have witnessed both change and challenge. Yet, through it all, our commitment to the core principles of Justice for All and Equality Before the Law has remained steadfast.

Thank you to all members of the Nebraska Judicial Branch for your continued dedication and service—it is on behalf of the Branch that I present to you the Fiscal Year 2023-2024 Annual Report.

The Nebraska Constitution

provides that general administrative authority over all the courts in the state is vested in the Supreme Court and shall be exercised by the Chief Justice (Nebraska Const. art. V).

At the local level, trial court judges are responsible for the operation of the court system. They are tasked with providing leadership within their judicial district to enrich the well-being of the court system.

The Court supports a number of commissions and committees consisting of citizens, judges, and lawyers who collaborate to improve the delivery of justice throughout the state. A complete listing of committees and their members can be found on the Judicial Branch website under the Administration section.

Judicial Associations

Each level of the trial court system has an association providing leadership for its judges. Presidents of the associations for the 2024 fiscal year:

- District Court Judges' Association:
 - Judge Jodi L. Nelson, 3rd Judicial District, 10/2023 – 10/2024
 - Judge Leigh Ann Retelsdorf, 4th Judicial District, 10/2022 – 10/2023
- County Court Judges' Association:
 - Judge Jeffrey M. Wightman, 11th Judicial District, 10/2023 – 10/2024
 - Judge Randin R. Roland, 12th Judicial District, 10/2022 – 10/2023
- Separate Juvenile Judges' Association:

 - Judge Elise M. W. White, Lancaster County, 10/2023 – 10/2024

Chief Justice Heavican convenes the annual Leadership Conference, comprised of those chairing Supreme Court commissions and committees. The conference enhances the leadership and administrative skills of trial court judges and promotes innovative branch-wide programming.

Developing Judicial Leadership

As an outgrowth of the Chief Justice's Annual Leadership Conference, Judicial Branch Education sponsors a judicial leadership development program bringing together trial court judges to develop their leadership skills and apply this to serving as project lead on an emerging issue facing the court. These judges meet regularly over the course of a year to develop an understanding of the issue, bringing together stakeholders familiar with the issue, and providing recommendations for ways the courts can work for the betterment of the Judicial Branch.

ACROSS THE COUNTRY, THERE HAS BEEN A CLIMATE OF DISTRUST IN THE GOVERNMENT AND THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM. THAT'S TROUBLING. BUT IN NEBRASKA, WE ARE FORTUNATE TO HAVE A SUPREME COURT THAT IS HARD-WORKING, AND THEY DO NOT JUST STAY IN THE CAPITOL. THEY GO TO THE HIGH SCHOOLS AND HEAR CASES; THEY GO TO LAW SCHOOLS AND DO THE SAME. AND WE ARE VERY FORTUNATE AND VERY PROUD TO HAVE THAT.”

Judicial Selection

Nebraska chooses judges using the merit selection system where nominating commissions screen, interview, and solicit judicial applicants. All judicial vacancies fall under the discretion of a judicial nominating commission.

Each judicial nominating commission is made up of four lawyers and four non-lawyers with a nonvoting Supreme Court Justice acting as chairperson. The judicial nominating commission holds a public hearing to interview candidates who have submitted their names for the open judgeship. The judicial nominating commission submits the names of at least two qualified attorneys to the Governor.

Qualifications

Applicants for positions on all levels of Nebraska courts must meet a number of requirements in order to be appointed to office. Each person must be a U.S. citizen, be at least 30 years of age, and have practiced law a minimum of five years in the State of Nebraska. The person must also be currently admitted to practice before the Nebraska Supreme Court.

The Information Technology Division is responsible for technological support of the Judicial Branch. Application development of court (JUSTICE/SCCALES) and probation (NPACS) case management systems are also under the purview of the Division.

Technology teams implement improvements to online services (such as those below) to help the Judicial Branch run efficiently in delivering information and services to the public and the legal community.

- eFiling
- ePayment
- Service provider registration
- Voucher submission
- Online calendars
- Court case information searches

The Judicial Branch case management systems are all custom built, and continually updated to meet with new rule and statutory requirements, as well as automating new processes for courts and probation.

Nebraska Supreme Court Enhances "JUSTICE" System with Image Inclusion in One-Time Case Searches

The Nebraska court one-time search using the Nebraska Judicial Branch "JUSTICE" System has received a significant upgrade. As of January 26, 2024, users are able to access non-confidential images associated with documents filed on or after April 2008.

Previously, the application limited one-time searches to text-only information when conducting case searches. The recent upgrade addresses this limitation by including relevant images without imposing additional costs; the $15.00 search fee now covers both text and images.

The decision to integrate images aims to enhance transparency and provide the same accessibility as those who subscribe to the full suite of services. The upgrade reflects a commitment to leveraging technology to provide a more inclusive overview of court cases for the one-time search user.

Judicial Branch Education (JBE)

provides essential continuing education to maintain and increase professional competence and knowledge to ensure the delivery of the highest quality services to the people of Nebraska. The Supreme Court Rules and the Judicial Branch Advisory Committee standards outline minimum education requirements for all judges, attorneys, and judicial branch staff. JBE also manages continuing education for attorneys in Nebraska.

JBE coordinates new and ongoing education delivered through in-person, online, and distance learning events. The division also assists outside stakeholders, such as Problem-Solving Court team members, probation providers, and attorneys, in meeting mandatory educational requirements to fulfill their roles as part of Nebraska’s judicial system.

In response to increasing educational demands, JBE expanded in November 2023 by acquiring new training, meeting, and office space. This expansion doubled the number of training/meeting rooms and introduced advanced technology for in-person, Zoom, and hybrid events. The new facilities include a computer lab for JUSTICE and NPACS (case management systems) training and a sound studio for podcasts and online modules, leading to cost savings compared to hotel venues. Additionally, two new trainer positions were created, with roles filled by mid-October 2023. The new NPACS trainer is developing courses and support systems, while the JUSTICE trainer is enhancing in-person training capabilities. Both trainers work remotely and travel statewide, with a computer lab also established in Broken Bow.

The Operations Division performs a wide variety of functions in its support of trial courts and probation operations throughout the state.

- All elements of human resources
- Internal and external communications, social media, and audio/video productions
- Web development, design and maintenance
- Interstate transfers of probationers

INTERSTATE COMPACT

The Office of Interstate Compact is responsible for assisting with the facilitation of the transfer of supervision for both adult and juvenile probationers to the state where the client resides, as well as facilitating the safe return of any juvenile who runs (absconds) to another state. Furthermore, the compact office monitors statewide compliance with adult and juvenile compact rules and provides training and resources to field staff, district management, and other justice partners. Additionally, the compact office is charged with reviewing all inter-district transfer and shared supervision cases to ensure adherence to protocol and assist with the seamless transition of supervision within the State of Nebraska.

The Compact Office assisted in facilitating the safe return of 48 out-of-state juvenile runaways.

Public Information & Educational Outreach

The Office of Public Information and Educational Outreach manages media inquiries, public information requests, and opportunities for the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals to engage with communities, including students. The Office assists both national and in-state media to facilitate expanded media coverage. Educational materials regarding cameras in courts are produced for both media outlets and judges. Additionally, the Office directs employee communications, creates and distributes press releases, and coordinates messaging on a variety of topics.

The Communications Office has advanced efforts to encourage judges to engage with news reporters through the Nebraska State Bar Foundation's Bench Media Committee. In a unique two-day training, Nebraska judges and attorneys met to discuss effective interview techniques for legal professionals. A video presentation by a Nebraska news reporter emphasized the value of on-camera interviews, noting their impact on public understanding. Justice Jeff Funke, who chaired the program, urged participants to help the public better understand the legal system.

The ON-AIR Resource Committee initiative aims to foster transparency, collaboration with traditional media, and a clearer public understanding of Nebraska's judicial processes.

Research & Data

The Research and Data team provides data, research, and information to judicial, probation, and administrative leadership. It is responsible for completing a variety of recurring and emergent reports and analyses that are used to help drive day-to-day business decisions. It collaborates with internal divisions to provide pilot study evaluation and support internal research endeavors. Reports are available on the Judicial Branch website publications page.

For external requests, the team has taken the initiative to educate the public about accessing court records for free through their local courthouse kiosk or through our court-authorized service provider, Nebraska.gov.

For those who do not wish to compile their own data, external requestors can request the Research and Data team to compile data for a fee.

Fees start at $2,077.00 for one year of data, with a flat fee of $355.00 for each additional year for a maximum of 10 years of data in a single request. These fees are necessary to cover the administrative costs and mitigate potential disruption to court operations caused by fulfilling these requests.

Year(s) of Data	Cost
1	$2,077
2	$2,432
3	$2,787
4	$3,142
5	$3,497
6	$3,852
7	$4,207
8	$4,562
9	$4,917

In line with national trends, external requests have been on the rise. The team has streamlined processes for both internal and external requests. Reducing redundancy by 12% for internal reporting.

The Court Services Division provides administrative support to the trial courts. This division is responsible for communicating Supreme Court administrative policy and providing procedural standards and publications for trial court operations. Intense focus is placed on areas related to working with and educating court staff and interpreters; developing and maintaining court forms and procedures manuals; providing support to the statewide child support referees; and providing support for special interest issues like access to justice, self-represented litigants, and mediation.

The Court Services Division also serves as a liaison to trial court-related associations and committees.

Trial Court Services supports the Nebraska Supreme Court in its administrative and supervisory authority as set out by the Nebraska State Constitution, art. V, sec. 1. Specifically, Trial Court Services provides support and resources to district, county, and separate juvenile courts and provides assistance and trial court services resources to the public.

Education

Trial Court Services in collaboration with Judicial Branch Education and the National Center for State Courts provided specialized staff education on Jury Management. Additionally, Trial Court Services provided education on the Judicial Code of Conduct, ethics training for court staff, and ADA education. These advanced trainings instill high levels of integrity and impartiality to help establish public trust and confidence in the Court.

Improving Processes for Courts & Self-Represented Litigants

With access to the courts in mind, Trial Court Services and Nebraska Court Clerks collaborated to create templates for basic court processes meant to be the structural framework of an improved self-represented litigant resources for the website. Involvement of court clerks created the opportunity identify and build parallel support for court staff. The overall approach is meant to encourage efficient and effective interactions between staff and self-represented litigants as cases progress through Nebraska courts.

Supporting Courts

Trial Court Services has helped set up, coordinate, and provide staffing support to all counties in the State of Nebraska due to staffing turnover. Staffing support has taken on a new look since both the pandemic and the implementation of the modernization rules with the ability to staff courts remotely and still provide excellent customer service.

ACCESS TO JUSTICE

The vision of the Nebraska Access to Justice Commission is to achieve 100 percent access to justice for all.

The mission of the Access to Justice Commission is to identify barriers to equal access in Nebraska and to recommend and coordinate effective solutions so that all court users have equal access to swift, fair justice.

Racial Equity in the Courts Initiative – Phase II Completed: In 2020, Chief Justice Michael Heavican asked the Access to Justice Commission to engage the public in a discussion of racial equity and to “learn, directly from court users, what we need to do better to address racial inequity in our courtrooms and our court processes.” The Commission responded by developing a three-phase initiative to engage court users, community leaders, judges, lawyers, court staff, and probation staff in a discussion of racial equity in the courts. Phase I involved a statewide Court User Survey that measured current perceptions of access and fairness among those using our state courts. The results of that statewide survey were published in a 2022 report available on the Nebraska Supreme Court website: nejudicial.com/usersurvey.

Phase II consisted of focus groups held in seven Nebraska counties with both community and justice system stakeholders. These focus groups were fact finding events, designed to learn about local concerns around gaps in service and barriers to access, identifying local reforms and strategies to address their concerns. The most common themes included language barriers, lack of access to court and court services due to transportation or employment, and a need for robust data collection and reporting.

The information gathered is being developed into a comprehensive report that will be shared with focus group participants to invite their feedback as part of virtual sessions in September 2024. Their input will help guide and inform Phase III, which will be public engagement sessions that will facilitate statewide discussion of the various issues identified during Phases I and II.

Priority Projects of the Standing Committees: In a concerted effort to maximize the time commitment of committee members and efficiency related to their projects, the commission chairs and co-chairs met in March 2024 and agreed on one priority project at a time for each committee to focus on.

Committee on Equity and Fairness

In collaboration with system project partners, the Committee will complete recommendations for a comprehensive modernization of the In Forma Pauperis procedure through proposed statutory amendments, plain language changes to court rules and court forms, and education of the bench and bar.

Consortium of Tribal, State, and Federal Courts

The Consortium will focus on expanding local community engagement among tribal and judicial leaders to continue strengthening relationships and building collaboration.

Self-Represented Litigation Committee

The Committee will develop and propose a court navigator program for evaluation and implementation to address gaps in the legal services and resources available to court users who are navigating the judicial system without an attorney.

Access to Justice Specialist Hired: In January 2024 the Court added a new Access to Justice Specialist to serve as fulltime dedicated staff to the Access to Justice Commission and its Standing Committees and working groups.

This dedicated staff role in the Court Services Division demonstrates the Commission’s ongoing commitment to the initiatives outlined in the Access to Justice Commission Strategic Plan FY2023-2028, and our shared interest in and commitment to improving access and equity for all court users in Nebraska

Assistive Listening Technology Systems: Several years ago, the Access to Justice Commission established a temporary working group to consider pilot projects focused on improving communications access for court users who are deaf or hard of hearing.

One of the goals was to pilot the use of assistive listening technology in at least one trial and one appellate courtroom. In 2022, this pilot project got an unexpected boost when it was included in the AOCP’s courtroom technology upgrades being completed in more than 100 Nebraska courtrooms statewide. In 2024 those upgrades will be completed allowing those with and without compatible hearing aids and cochlear implants to hear and more effectively participate in court proceedings by wearing a device that uses infrared light to transmit sound.

Self-Help Center Pilot Project in Douglas County: In June, the AOCB was awarded a grant from the State Justice Institute to launch a court-based Self-Help Center in Douglas County, with the goal to expand virtual resources and support for self-represented litigants statewide. The increasing number of self-represented litigants remains a focus area for the Nebraska court system.

Though this project is in its very early stages, it has received strong support from judges, court staff, attorneys, legal aid services, and community members. The data gathered from the Self-Help Center Pilot will be used to review and develop more user-friendly court forms and resources in virtual and in-person settings, benefiting self-represented court users statewide. This initiative is particularly crucial in rural areas of the state where access to legal assistance is limited.

“The law promises ‘equal justice’ in the courts. However, many self-represented litigants feel frustrated with the legal process because they are unaware of all the legal practices and procedures required. The self-help center is designed to provide guidance and education to those who represent themselves as they navigate legal filings, court appearances, and presenting evidence. Both litigants and the courts benefit when the process is understood, and expectations are met.”

Judge Stephanie Hansen, County Court, Douglas County

LANGUAGE ACCESS

The Language Access Program recruits, trains, and certifies spoken language court interpreters and coordinates the appointment of qualified professional interpreters across the state to serve as communication conduits for limited English proficient (LEP) court and probation users at no cost to LEP individual, regardless of case type. It is comprised of individuals with a resolute commitment for providing high-quality language services in multiple forms, including Communication Access Real Time Translation, document translation, in-person, phone, and video interpretation.

Interpreter Certification Pathway

This new initiative has been developed to empower and assist bilingual individuals in pursuing a career as a Nebraska Judicial Branch interpreter. The comprehensive pathway seeks to address the process of certification in its entirety to increase the number and language diversity of certified and provisionally certified interpreters. The multi-faceted pathway includes not only orientation, written and oral exams, but skill building, lending libraries, provisional certification, and continuing education units. A key component of the pathway is offering a large portion of it online which allows the Nebraska Judicial Branch to meet aspiring interpreter partners where they are.

In its first six months, orientation attendance has increased significantly with attendees representing a microcosm of the communities the Nebraska Judicial Branch serves on a daily basis:

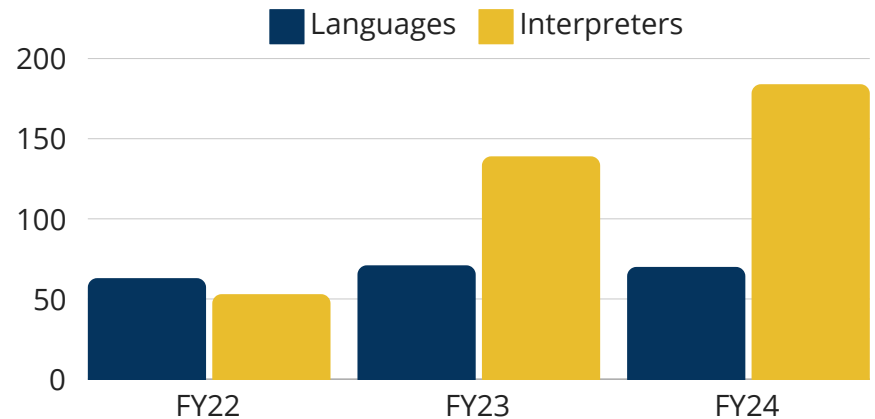

58 ATTENDEES

15 LANGUAGES
ARABIC, BURMESE, EWE, FRENCH, KAREN, KOREAN, KURDISH, MAM, NEPALI, NUER, RUSSIAN, SOMALI, SPANISH, THAI, AND VIETNAMESE

13 COUNTIES
COLFAX, DAWSON, DOUGLAS, HALL, HAMILTON, HOLT, KIMBALL, LANCASTER, LINCOLN, MADISON, PLATTE, SARPY, AND STANTON

Language Service Increase

Over a three-year period, the demand for language services has surged, as evidenced by an 11% increase in the number of languages requiring interpretation. This growth highlights the expanding diversity and linguistic needs within Nebraska's population. In response to this demand, the number of interpreters has seen a remarkable 247% increase, reflecting significant efforts to recruit and train professionals to meet these evolving requirements. This substantial rise in interpreter numbers not only supports the growing linguistic diversity but also ensures that language barriers are effectively bridged, enabling better communication and access to services for all.

Commemorating the 50th anniversary of Language Access in the Courts across the state, August 14, 2023.

THESE INDIVIDUALS, COURT INTERPRETERS, PLAY AN INDISPENSABLE
ROLE IN OUR COURTS, BREAKING DOWN COMMUNICATION BARRIERS
THAT MIGHT OTHERWISE IMPEDE THE PURSUIT OF JUSTICE.

OFFICE OF DISPUTE RESOLUTION

The Office of Dispute Resolution (ODR) oversees the development of dispute resolution with a focus on the six ODR-approved non-profit mediation centers and court-connected programs across the state. The six mediation centers approved by ODR provide Nebraskans access to court alternatives through dispute resolution.

Services include: Basic Mediation, Parenting Act Mediation, Child Welfare Mediation/Facilitation, and Restorative Justice Facilitation.

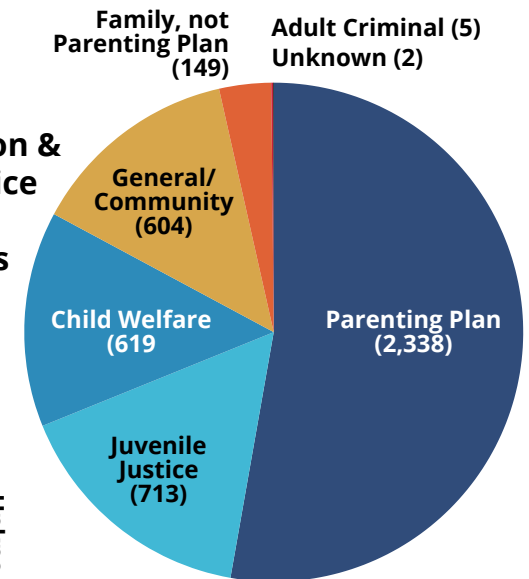

Mediation and restorative justice are alternative dispute resolution (ADR) methods involving participant input on outcomes. ADR can be utilized at the onset of disputes (in schools, families, communities), during court cases, or after court (e.g., modifying parenting plans, probation).

The Dispute Resolution Act established a partnership between the State and non-profit mediation centers to deliver these services effectively and affordably to all Nebraskans. These centers offer a sliding fee scale and cannot refuse service based on inability to pay, ensuring accessibility.

The State, Courts, and court users save money through this partnership with approved mediation centers. Savings are realized regardless of when ADR is used, such as:

- Parents creating their own parenting plans for court (conserves court resources).
- Litigants resolving Small Claims cases with mutually agreed payment plans (conserves court resources).
- Addressing student truancy with plans for success (conserves county and court resources and facilitates positive outcomes in the community).

The Nebraska Court Improvement Project (CIP) works to positively impact and improve outcomes for children, youth, and families involved with juvenile court through multi-disciplinary, judge-led "Through the Eyes of a Child" teams in every Nebraska county. CIP provides or facilitates education for child welfare and youth justice professionals, distributes data on court-involved youth and families, and collaborates with partner agencies, court professionals, and other stakeholders to improve court processes.

Upstream Initiative

Nebraska was selected as a pilot site for the National Center for State Courts (NCSC) Upstream initiative. Upstream builds on judicial leadership to convene community members to identify issues families face that, if left unaddressed, may result in formal court involvement. CIP partnered with NCSC to coordinate the first Upstream community mapping workshop in Red Willow County. County Court Judge Anne Paine and the local Through the Eyes of the Child team invited over 50 community members to attend a 2-day workshop which highlighted current community supports and provided an overview of the child welfare and youth justice system. With this foundational information, participants developed an action plan to address the identified issues, with a focus on supporting families prior to system involvement. The local Through the Eyes of the Child team will continue to evaluate action plan progress and reconvene in early 2025 to report on progress. CIP has plans to conduct additional Upstream mapping workshops across the state.

CIP, in partnership with the Nebraska Indian Child Welfare Coalition is proud to highlight the recently released Indian Child Welfare Act education series, available on the Judicial Branch Education learning platform and on the Nebraska CIP website. Expansion

On November 11, 2023, the Nebraska Supreme Court approved the request of 5th Judicial District Court Judge Jason M. Bergevin to establish a new Adult Drug Court in Platte County.

According to the Adult Treatment Court Best Practice Standards, 2nd edition, before implementing the program, the team learns from expert faculty about the key components and best practices in treatment courts, creates a guiding mission statement and objectives for the program, and develops evidence-based and culturally equitable policies and procedures to govern the treatment court's operations. Prior to program implementation, the newly formed drug court team participated in a 3-day Foundational Workshop conducted by All Rise. The 5th Judicial District Adult Drug Court in Platte County held their first drug court hearing on July 19, 2024.

Problem-Solving Court Summit

The 2020-2025 Strategic Plan for Nebraska Problem-Solving Courts identified problem-solving court growth, expansion, and the relationships of interested parties as focus areas that are critical for the continued success of Nebraska Problem-Solving Courts. To examine these issues, a workgroup comprised of representatives from the core disciplines of a problem-solving court team was established.

Prior to the initial meeting, a discipline-specific survey was created and disseminated to Nebraska stakeholders. Data from the survey was collected and organized to be used to facilitate the initial meeting.

The workgroup convened on May 30, 2024, in Lincoln for a Problem-Solving Court Summit hosted by the Nebraska Supreme Court and facilitated by the National Center for State Courts (NCSC). Following the May 30 meeting, the workgroup held virtual meetings in preparation for the final in-person meeting in La Vista on September 18, 2024. It is anticipated that the workgroup will submit its final report to the Nebraska Supreme Court following the final in-person meeting in La Vista.

The Juvenile Probation Services Division is responsible for the statewide administration of juvenile detention intake, investigations, supervision, rehabilitative/behavioral health/supportive services, and re-entry. During all stages of the court process, youth and their families are encouraged to be active participants. Supported by research and shown to have a positive impact on recidivism, as well as behavior change, juvenile probation applies a balanced approach tailored to reflect the distinct developmental needs of adolescents.

Juvenile probation's goal is to prevent juveniles from returning to the juvenile justice system or entering the criminal justice system.

Service Expansions in Rural Nebraska:

The Juvenile Services Division remains focused on expanding service access in rural areas. In September 2023, the University of Kearney was contracted to conduct an environmental scan of probation Districts 11 and 12, leading to a detailed report on service needs. Service expansion continues to be a priority moving forward and the results of the research driven environmental scan will be utilized to continue to make progress in the future.

Highlights of recent service expansions impacting these rural areas:

Thrive:

This service was developed under the leadership of Judge Anne Paine and is a mentoring service specific to youth on probation in McCook. Youth who receive the Thrive service work with a professional Thrive Worker who helps them select a mentor, usually know to their family to support them through activities which build new skills for the youth and provide a long-term supportive relationship even after the service ends.

Mindfulness:

This service was developed in Hastings and provides both Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT) and yoga/mindfulness classes for probation youth. This is a trauma informed service with the goal of increasing a youth's ability to self-regulate and improve overall mood. The service also expanded to Holdrege, in June of 2024.

Transportation:

The service of transportation for youth has presented a barrier for many years and with service access difficulties in rural areas this difficulty is heightened. Due to this a special focus was placed on transportation over the past year resulting in added drivers to current providers, as well as a brand-new transportation service provider launching in June of 2024.

Professional Foster Care:

This is an intensive level of foster care available for youth with complex needs. After a successful pilot this service is now available for all foster care agencies to become a registered service provider. Currently, there are Professional Foster Homes in Scottsbluff and other areas of the state.

Each year, youth have the opportunity to document their journey in Probation through the annual Artwork Contest, last year Jarvis won first place with this entry. See this year's entrants: <https://nejudicial.com/artwork24>.

The Adult Probation Services Division oversees the development, training, and implementation of:

- All statutory requirements for adult investigations and supervision;
- Evidence-based programming for adults;
 - Including individuals being released from incarceration for Class III, IIIA, and IV felony offenses, also referred to as post-release supervision;
- Rehabilitative/behavioral health and supportive services for those under community supervision, creating opportunities for constructive change and enhancing community safety.

Probation strives to provide equitable access to services by reducing financial barriers for individuals and families.

Nebraska Probation: Accountability, Behavior Change, Community Safety

- Observed a reduction in the overall risk-level of high-risk to recidivate individuals on probation, post-release supervision, and problem-solving courts upon successful completion of supervision.
- Reduced number of individuals on felony probation revoked to a state correctional facilities. The number of individuals revoked off probation to a state prison for a new law violation decreased from 325 in FY22-23 to 268 in FY23-24, or a 17.5% reduction.

Adult Probation Recidivism Rate:

19%

In spite of a 50% increase in the high to very high risk to reoffend felony probation population (63% of population) resulting from LB605 passed in 2015, Nebraska Probation's community-based supervision continues to effectively reduce adult recidivism.

Cost-effective community-based supervision
$2,000 VS. $41,000

Incarceration costs $41,000 per person per year.

Probation supervision costs nearly $2,000 per person per year.

Intensive supervision costs approximately $3,500 per person per year.

Collected 474,645 drug tests on 19,288 unique individuals or an average of 24 chemical tests per adult individual under supervision, helping to enforce court-ordered abstinence and improve community safety.

During Fiscal Year 2023-2024, Nebraska Probation Reporting Centers had over 64,545 visits by probation, post-release supervision, and problem-solving court individuals who accessed services and programming.

Completed 10,285 presentence investigations to assist Nebraska courts with sentencing decisions for adult justice-involved individuals.

Completed 550 post-release supervision reentry plans, providing critical support for individuals reentering their community following a period of incarceration.

Supervised 9,163 high-risk to recidivate individuals on probation within their communities, critical for their successful rehabilitation and improved community safety.

Supervised 1,299 individuals on post-release supervision, addressing their critical needs such as housing, employment, and treatment for substance use and mental health.
