No Conflict Here

Last week was ABA Mediation Week, a perfect time for the conflict resolution presentation held on Creighton University’s campus. Co-sponsored by Creighton’s School of Law, Concord Mediation Center, The Werner Institute and Nebraska Mediation Association, the event also celebrated Conflict Resolution Day, an international celebration held annually on the third Thursday in October. The presentation of “The Self Represented Litigant Phenomenon: What It Means for Mediators, the Legal Profession, the Judiciary and the Justice System” was given by Dr. Julie Macfarlane, professor of law, the University of Windsor. A reception followed the presentation. From the Werner Institute at Creighton are: (above from left) Asst. Prof. Mary Lee Brock, the speaker Dr. Macfarlane, Prof. Bernie Mayer, Asst. Prof. and Online Program Chair Noam Ebner and Associate Prof. Dr. Jacqueline Font-Guzman.
